I have had the privilege of knowing Kourosch Keshani for over a year and have entrusted to him not only the care of my patients but also my daughter.

He is an extremely talented acupuncturist and herbalist. Kourosch exhibits a number of skills rarely found in the healing arts. He combines excellent training with remarkable intuition and compassion.

It is unusual to find a practitioner of the healing arts with the ability to connect with the very young and the very old. I have been particularly impressed with his work with small children. He has significant experience working with children who have developmental delays and can successfully coax a 5 year old to remain still and calm throughout a 45 minutes session—not an east task!

Kourosch's clients have seen great changes in their physical, mental and spiritual well being. His work with my daughter has extended beyond her original symptoms to touch our entire family, and we remain grateful for his healing influence.
